

Beat: Health

Where does the money go for Gender Equity in France

Report by High Council of Gender

Paris, Washington DC, 15.11.2016, 18:15 Time

USPA NEWS - The French High Council for Equality of Women and Men, the Economic and Social Council as well as foundations have organised a meeting to release their latest report about "the money dedicated to the gender equity cause in France". Daniele Bousquet the Chairman, and other fellows, present the work

A conference was organized by the High Council for Equality of Women and Men, the Economic and Social Council as well as foundations

Relay report by UN Women Committee, High Council between Women and Men and ETUC, and W4

Genevieve Garrigos Member National Human Rights Advisory Commission Former Chairman, Amnesty International France. "We must reduce territorial inequalities and the law does not apply according to the regions of France and this is not normal." Daniele Bousquet HCE High Council Equality Men Women Ex Vice President of Chamber of Deputies, Former MP

Daniele Bousquet explains: "The texts of laws establish rights between women and men, and taboo subjects, especially money of women and men ... much is not a subject ... All the political parties say that it is a subject of society. The women's ministry last week issued a CSA report, "The French have 57% predominantly feminist." The public investment comes from the State, with 29 million budget of the Ministry of Women, or 0.007% of the budget of The state, the weaker. We have reached the status of "burnout", and are tired of associations that come up against the lack of resources. Rape, in France are not judges enough. There must be public money to fight these inequalities.

In some areas the means were abolished, their budgets for women. But private money is not in the culture of France.

Pascale Viot Head of delegation Men Women CES gives her opinion and outcomes on the recent female initiative to fight against unbalanced gender inequity" This is a fundamental issue, there is no funding for women. Excellent initiative. Women's rights are mainly based on voluntary and voluntary sectors, with very little or no funding. Women's Right Information Center, will be firm in some departments. Policies on women's rights, based on elected officials, can erase 50 years of work. Association Solidarite Femmes de France. Behaviors in everyday life, linked to the domination of Men.

Anne Cecile Mailfert, Mailfert, President of Women's Foundation explains : "The Women's foundation was established in March 2016, on matters of means. The results show that new stage has the foundation of the women, making it concrete, taking the means by really finding the society. Despite the state of law, we must put money on the table. Political priorities must be translated so much into financial priorities. The mobilization of our partners was essential, and thanks to the collaboration. It is hoped that this report will be annual, and this report has been voluntary. We hope to make an exhaustive reading. We have set up a "Gender budgeting" and hope for more sophisticated information. Our foundation targets individuals and companies, private financing. How we women finance on our struggles. There are very few private donations, while women are more donors than men."

Article online:

<https://www.uspa24.com/bericht-9996/where-does-the-money-go-for-gender-equity-in-france.html>

Editorial office and responsibility:

V.i.S.d.P. & Sect. 6 MDStV (German Interstate Media Services Agreement): Rahma Sophia RACHDI

Exemption from liability:

The publisher shall assume no liability for the accuracy or completeness of the published report and is merely providing space for the submission of and access to third-party content. Liability for the content of a report lies solely with the author of such report. Rahma Sophia RACHDI

Editorial program service of General News Agency:

United Press Association, Inc.

3651 Lindell Road, Suite D168

Las Vegas, NV 89103, USA

(702) 943.0321 Local

(702) 943.0233 Facsimile

info@unitedpressassociation.org

info@gna24.com

www.gna24.com